

Trade Union Recognition Claim Process

The trade union recognition claim is a process whereby a decision will be made as to whether or not a trade union is eligible to represent the workers in collective bargaining in a company (the employer).

Note: DGTU - Director General of Trade Unions
 DGIR - Director General of Industrial Relations